Dr. Juli Mansnéus, Head of Patents and Life Sciences, is admitted to the Finnish Bar and holds both Swedish and Finnish law degrees. She earned a Doctor of Laws degree with a focus on intellectual property and pharmaceutical law, establishing herself as a key advisor in pan-European litigation for pharmaceuticals, medical devices, and other technology-driven industries.

Her practice encompasses both contentious and non-contentious matters, guiding clients in regulatory and strategic challenges from R&D and commercialization to market access and pharmaceutical marketing. Her Master of Sciences in Translational Medicine from the University of Edinburgh gives her an invaluable perspective on the evolving needs of life sciences, pharmaceutical, and health technology companies.

Dr. Mansnéus has served as Vice Chairman of the Finnish Copyright Council and is an alumna of Young Academy Finland. She continues to conduct post-doctoral research and teach various law courses at the University of Helsinki. With her unique combination of legal acumen and scientific insight, she provides comprehensive guidance for clients seeking success in a rapidly changing marketplace.
